How Pressure Groups Handpick a Candidate

A memorandum is being distributed by Earl Downs, a P.A.C.E. member, to members of the Hope Education Association urging them to take six persons apiece to the polls next Tuesday and vote for David Pryor for United States Senator.

Mr. Downs' letter reports:

"Saturday, May 6, Harrel Dickerson went with me to Little Rock for our committee meeting at which time we interviewed Ray Thornton, Richard Arnold, Foster Johnson, and Jack Coleman. The next Saturday, May 13, the committee interviewed David Pryor, Ted Boswell, and Richard Mays. Senator McClellan did not see fit to give us any of his time although for four weeks we tried to get him to set a time, day or night, that was convenient for him . . .

"Saturday, June 3, we met and endorsed David Pryor for the United States Senate."

Obviously the teachers, like the national bosses of Big Labor, were looking for some firm commitment that McClellan wouldn't even consider—so they got that commitment from David Pryor.

That's every citizen's privilege—to extract political promises from whoever he can, and then work for election of the candidate of his choice.

But citizens who do so must also accept the risk of publication so that all other citizens and taxpayers will know what the score is in next Tuesday's runoff election.

Schultz Nomination Confirmed

WASHINGTON (AP) — The nomination of George P. Shultz to succeed outgoing Secretary of the Treasury John B. Connally has been confirmed unanimously by the Senate.

The 83-0 vote Thursday propels Shultz toward his second post in President Nixon's Cabinet. Presumably, he will be sworn in shortly.

Shultz, 51, served as secretary of labor for 17 months after Nixon was inaugurated. Then he moved to the White House to become director of the President's Office of Management and Budget.

Shultz, an economist, served as dean of the Graduate School of Business at the University of Chicago before joining the Nixon Cabinet in 1969. He has become one of Nixon's closest advisers.

Body Still Unidentified

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — State Police said Thursday that a woman's body found May 27 in Bayou DeView between Brinkley and Cotton Plant had not been identified.

Capt. Jim Ross said a logger found the body under a bridge. The body was in a zipped sleeping bag floating in the bayou, he said.

Labor Says Integrity Is Attacked —Becker

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — J. Bill Becker, president of the state AFL-CIO, said Thursday that the integrity of the Arkansas labor movement had been attacked by Sen. John L. McClellan.

In a letter to AFL-CIO affiliates in the state, Becker urged support for Rep. David Pryor in Tuesday's runoff primary for the Democratic party's U.S. Senate nomination. Pryor is opposed by McClellan.

McClellan and supporters of the senator, Becker said, have called labor groups "labor goons, trash, scum, labor bosses and labor czars."

Faubus, Black Group Back McClellan

HUNTSVILLE, Ark. (AP) — Former Gov. Orval E. Faubus said Thursday he had written a letter endorsing the re-election bid of Sen. John L. McClellan and citing accomplishments of McClellan. The accomplishments mentioned in the letter took place during the 12 years Faubus was governor.

The letter says that the senator's opponent, Rep. David Pryor, is "a man of little experience and who has been most ineffective in the official positions he has held."

Pryor and McClellan are competing for the Democratic nomination for the U.S. Senate. The winner will be decided Tuesday in a runoff primary.

Faubus said the letter, dated June 3, was mailed from Conway by a computer firm he hired to handle it.

Pryor, campaigning in the Osceola area, said he was not surprised by the letter, which he called an attempt to breathe life into "an old political machine."

He added, "They have to be pretty desperate."

Pryor said he thought McClellan's campaign would find the letter more harmful than helpful.

The letter said McClellan helped obtain federal land and funding for the Arkansas Law Enforcement Training Acade-

With the Candidates

Basic Problem Is Get Out Votes

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — A matter of crucial importance to Rep. David Pryor and Sen. John L. McClellan is that "their vote"—that base of support that they could normally expect—shows up at the polls in Tuesday's runoff election for the Democratic senatorial nomination.

They don't want their friends to be absent on election day, a factor that could make a difference in a tight election.

A record 495,000 persons voted in the first primary May 30, but the McClellan forces believe that many of the senator's supporters failed to showup. Part of the McClellan runoff campaign effort has been designed to account for these voters.

Both candidates also have been at work to assure that the voters who showed up for them the first time will do so again.

Opinion has been divided over which candidate would benefit most from a light voter turnout or a heavy one.

McClellan received 44.7 per cent of the vote in the first primary. His total was 220,588 votes and Pryor believes the senator will not top that total in the runoff, in which the congressman figures that the total vote will equal that of the first primary.

Pryor claims that many persons who voted for the senator in the first primary did so out of a feeling of obligation and will now be switching.

Pryor polled 41.3 per cent of the vote in finishing second to McClellan in the four-man race in the first primary. Ted Boswell, who finished third, received about 13 per cent of the vote, and Pryor predicts that many of the Boswell supporters will vote for him. Boswell has endorsed the congressman.

Votes With Minority

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. J. W. Fulbright, D-Ark., voted with the minority Thursday as the Senate confirmed Richard G. Kleindienst as U.S. attorney general. The vote was 64-19.

Sen. John L. McClellan, D-Ark., campaigning in his home state, did not vote.

Doesn't Owe Either Faubus or Johnson —Pryor

HOT SPRINGS, Ark. (AP) — Rep. David Pryor said Thursday that if he obtains the Democratic nomination for the U.S. Senate in next Tuesday's primary runoff he will have no obligation to former Gov. Orval E. Faubus or to Jim Johnson.

Pryor remarked after Faubus and Johnson, the 1966 Democratic gubernatorial nominee, endorsed Pryor's foe, Sen. John L. McClellan.

Faubus and Johnson "have had their day, but they're never quite willing to turn loose," Pryor said.

The endorsements of Johnson and Faubus were by letters, with Faubus' letter coming to light Thursday.

Pryor said it appeared that some of the material in the Faubus letter had been supplied by McClellan's campaign headquarters.

Faubus' letter said McClellan had proven his value as a senator but that Pryor had been ineffective in the positions he had held.

Johnson's letter said Pryor was "a glamour boy" whose supporters were "a mess of trash," and that Arkansans should work to re-elect McClellan.

Pryor said Wednesday that earlier this year he encountered Johnson while campaigning in a Conway barber shop and that Johnson had suggested several ways of making pointed attacks on McClellan. The congressman said he disregerded Johnson's advice.

Johnson replied Thursday that he had learned to be more careful about what he says in a barber shop and that he had "never had a serious or private conversation with David about his campaign and he knows it."

He said that while in the barber shop his remarks to Pryor were "flippant and joking" with a number of people present.

His Enemies Retaliating, Says Senator

HOT SPRINGS, Ark. (AP) — Sen. John L. McClellan said in Hot Springs Thursday night that his foe in Tuesday's primary election runoff is supported by $30,000 in campaign funds from labor unions "that my committee investigated and exposed."

The senator urged a meeting of law enforcement officers to help him get re-elected.

McClellan has said repeatedly in the campaign that he incurred the enmity of "labor bosses" years ago when his Senate committee exposed racketeering in some unions, but he previously had not said Pryor was supported by any union actually investigated by the committee.

In his 25-minute speech, McClellan said he wanted and needed the help of the law enforcement officers in his campaign, saying, "I believe it is in your interest maybe that I get re-elected; I hope it's that way, anyhow."

McClellan once again criticized Pryor's connections with the "outside labor leaders" he said have been trying for years to bring about his political extinction.

McClellan said that crime-fighting has its hazards, and he added, "Many times have I been threatened; I am being threatened now with political extinction."

The senator said that $65,000 had come from outside labor unions to aid Pryor's campaign and that more than $30,000 of it from particular unions he has investigated. He did not name the unions.

Appealing to the 300 law enforcement officers and their wives in the audience, McClellan recalled a bill that is now before his committee to provide for grants up to $50,000 to officers and firemen killed as a result of a criminal act.

Man Killed On I30

TEXARKANA, Ark. (AP) — Robert L. Lindsey, 49, of Texarkana was killed Thursday night when his car ran under the rear of a tractor-trailer truck on Interstate 30 near here.

State Police said Jerome Scchons, 35, of El Paso, Tex., driver of the truck, was not injured.

Wallace Leads Arkansas Poll

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — A poll conducted a week before the May 30 primary by Area Market Research Associates indicated that Gov. George Wallace of Alabama is favored by Arkansans for the Democratic presidential nomination.

Arkansas voters gave Wallace 32 per cent of the vote in the poll. Wallace carried Arkansas — by a plurality — in 1968 as the nominee of he American party.

The poll, which was conducted by mail, included 1,100 registered voters drawn from a random sample that included all 75 counties.

Those polled were asked, "Which of the following candidates would be your choice for the Democratic nominee for president?"

The list of possible candidates included Wallace, Rep. Wilbur D. Mills of Arkansas, Sen. George McGovern of South Dakota, Sen. Hubert H. Humphrey of Minnesota, Sen. Edward M. Kennedy of Massachusetts, Rep. Shirley Chisolm of New York and Sen. Edmund S. Muskie of Maine.

Mills finished second in the poll with 21 per cent, followed by McGovern with 16 per cent. Humphrey got 10 per cent, Kennedy and Mrs. Chisolm got 4 per cent each. Muskie trailed with 1 per cent and 12 per cent of those polled were undecided.

Fines Imposed

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Federal Aviation Administration has imposed the maximum penalties—fines of $1,000 each—on two airlines whose planes were hijacked in April. The fines are for failing to carry out prescribed passenger screening.

War Orphan Finds His Mother

ORLANDO, Fla. (AP) — "Dearest mother, ... — am sorry but I don't even know what you look like," the letter read.

And Vera List, thinking her only child was dead for 26 years, suddenly discovered she was both a mother and grandmother.

Mrs. List was separated from her son, Manfred, in 1945 when she was imprisoned by Russians during an invasion of Germany. The boy was one year old.

Told by the Russians that her son had died during her imprisonment, Mrs. List - then Vera Berth - finally emigrated to the United States in 1955. She later married Air Force Sgt. Everett List in Ohio and the couple moved to Orlando.

The woman said she never told her husband about the son. She was unmarried when her child was born.

"I guess you're surprised to hear from me," read the letter, which was written in German. "I am your son Manfred, born Aug. 23rd, 1944.

"After the bad times I went to live with foster parents. They were very good to me but now I have the inner longing to know my real mother."

The son wrote that he was now married and a father. He said his foster parents had given him his mother's name but had no other information about her. He said he spent eight years communicating with various agencies and officials in the United States before immigration authorities finally located her.

Mrs. List said she could not hold back the tears as she handed her husband the letter.

"Well, what in the world are you crying about," he asked. "This is great news. I've just become a father and a grandfather in one day."

Mrs. List said she and her husband have taken extra jobs to raise the $1,000 fare for her son, his wife and their child to fly to Orlando.

237 Votes at Stake in N.Y. Primary

By ARTHUR EVERETT
Associated Press Writer

NEW YORK (AP) — New York State holds its Democratic primary election June 20 with front-running Sen. George McGovern striving to add 237 delegates to his already imposing preconvention list. He is scheduled to begin campaigning here today.

New York's convention delegation will number 278 with 248 elected in the presidential primary and the remaining 30 chosen by the Democratic state committee after the primary.

McGovern is competing for 237 of the elective delegates. His opposition in almost all the state's 39 congressional districts are uncommitted slates or those nominally for Sen. Edmund S. Muskie of Maine, who has dropped out of active primary competition.

McGovern's principal rival nationally, Sen. Hubert H. Humphrey, of Minnesota, has not fielded any delegates slates in New York. However, he is hopeful of picking up support from uncommitted or Muskie delegates. Humphrey is said to be undecided on whether to campaign in New York.

Already on the scene are 114 youthful McGovern volunteers, among them Kathleen Kennedy, 20-year-old daughter of the late Robert F. Kennedy. She campaigned for the South Dakota senator Wednesday on the streets of Brooklyn and the Bronx.

Summer Weather Continues

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

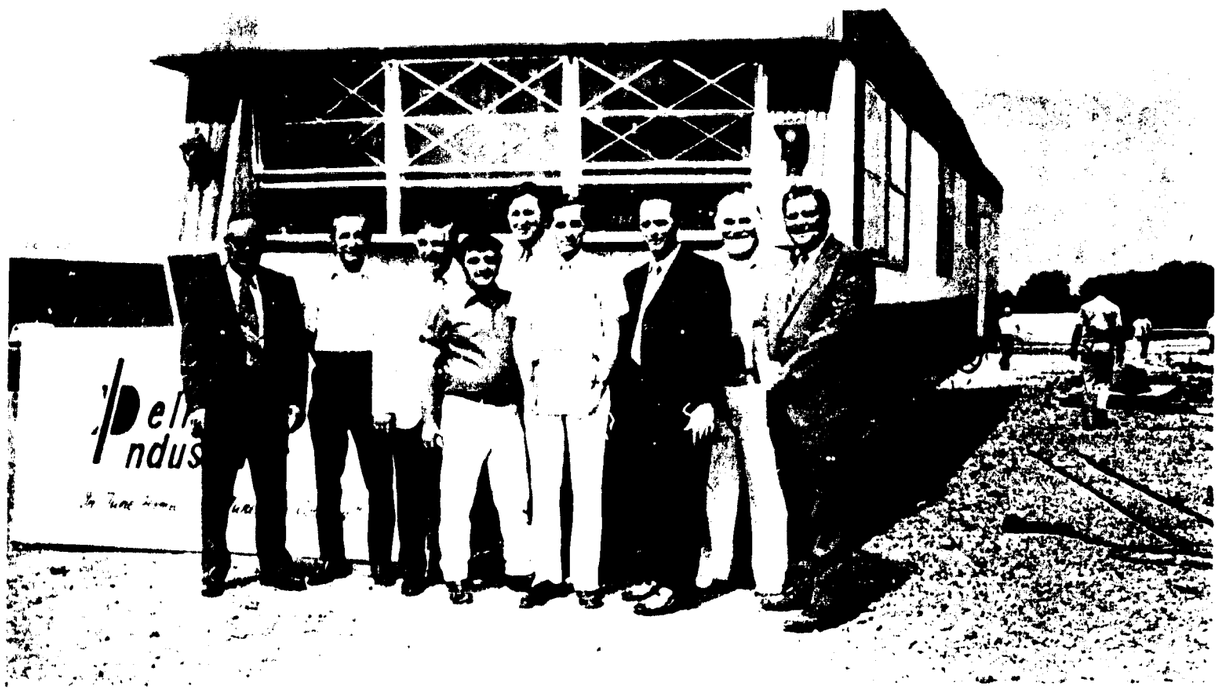

The weather in Arkansas was expected to remain hot and humid for at least the next couple of days, but added moisture being pumped into the state by southerly winds has increased the chance of showers.

The National Weather Service said light southerly winds on the back side of a high pressure system centered off the southern Atlantic coast are bringing moisture from the Gulf into the Midsouth.

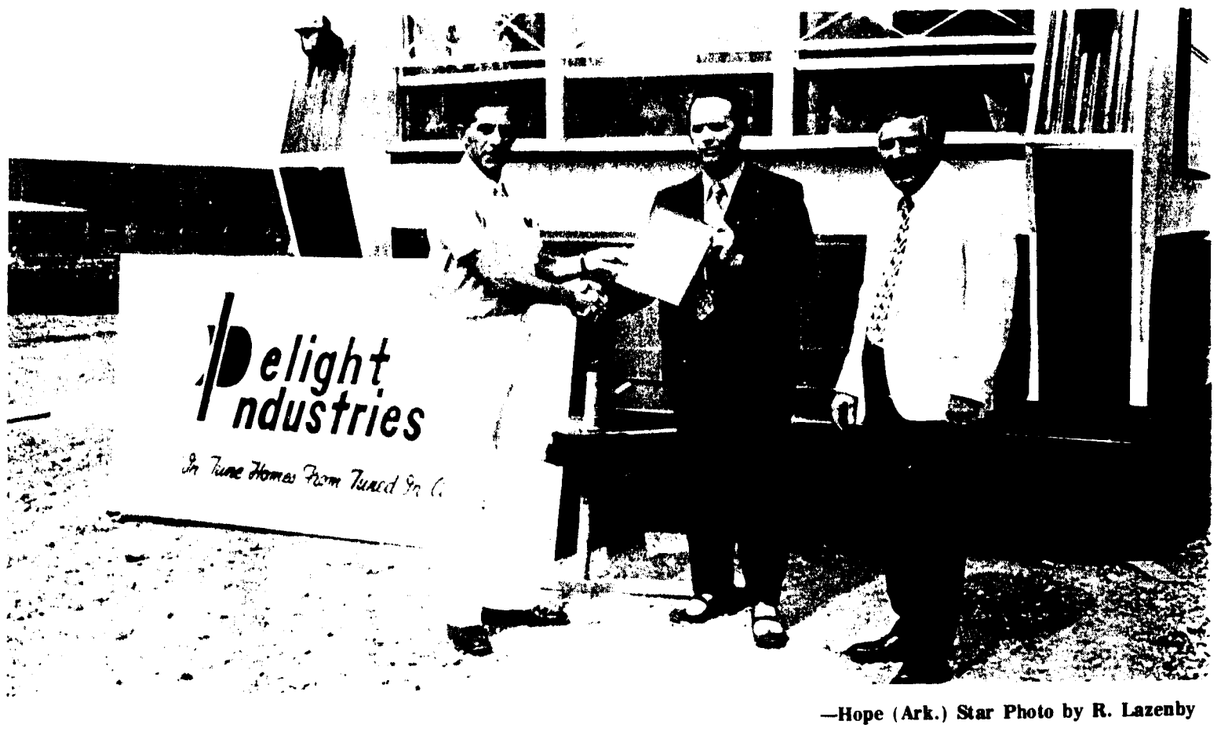

With the added moisture, the Weather Service said, shower activity was expected to show a marked increase compared to the past week.

Partial cloudiness Thursday held temperatures down slightly but increased humidity made for a hot, muggy day.

J. P. White, left, of Lawton, Okla., purchased the first mobile home from Delight Industries. Jeff Beckham, Vice President of Sales, and Bill Church, far right, Vice President of Sales, presented White with a certificate naming him a dealer for "Royal Coach" manufactured by Delight Industries.

The first mobile home manufactured by Delight Industries of Hope rolled off the assembly line Thursday morning. Several dignitaries with the new firm were on hand to witness the occasion.

W.C. Bruner, Jr. is president of Delight Industries which is a wholly owned subsidiary of Kustom Kraft, Inc. also of Hope. The firm employs 100 people and at peak production will be capable of producing four coaches per day.

Bruner, better known as "Dub" to area residents, stated the goal of the company is to produce quality house type construction in every coach manufactured.

Earnest Ayers, a top designer in the mobile home field, did the design work for the new line to be known as "Royal Coach". Units in Early American, Mediterrean, and Polynesian decor will be available.

Two and three bedroom coaches will be in 12 and 14 foot widths and will feature such conveniences as built-in appliances in the kitchen, carpet throughout, and cedar lined closets in all bedrooms. Another special feature is the increased amount of storage space.

Delight Industries will be selling in a 12 state area. J.P. White, president of Western Mobile Home of Lawton, Oklahoma, purchased the first coach manufactured.

French Nuclear Test Termed 'Intolerable'

STOCKHOLM (AP) — New Zealand's environment minister assailed France today for carrying out "intolerable" nuclear tests in the Pacific and urged the U.N. environment conference to condemn the blasts.

The minister, Duncan MacIntyre, said the tests have outraged New Zealanders and other peoples in the region. He pledged to work with other Pacific nations to force the environment conference to pressure Paris for a halt.

"To me it seems strange that a conference called to protect the environment should try to put the question of the misuse of nuclear energy into a cupboard," he said. "What other form of pollution has so much power to change the world and has so little known about it?"

MacIntyre drew attention to a joint statement offered by Pacific delegations in a committee on identification and control of pollutants.

MacIntyre was referring to French nuclear bomb tsts on the French-owned Mururoa Atoll near Tahiti in the South Pacific.

The French and the Chinese have refused to abide by the 1963 agreement banning nuclear testing in the atmosphere.

Nominee Is Impatient

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — While Sen. John L. McClellan and Rep. David Pryor compete for the Democratic party nomination for the U.S. Senate, the Republican nominee confesses to impatience to learn which it will be.

Dr. Wayne Babbitt, who was the only candidate for the Republican nomination for the U.S. Senate in the May 30 primaries, said Thursday that voter attention was directed to the "hotly contested" campaign for the Democratic nomination.

The issue will be settled Tuesday in the runoff primary.

Right now Babbitt said, the main thrust of his own campaign is to get his name before the people. He said he is "petitioning with a staff of four or five volunteers. He'll be in a better position to sign his campaign

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — The president of the Arkansas Democratic Voters Association urged blacks Thursday to vote for Sen. John L. McClellan for the Democratic party nomination for the U.S. Senate in next Tuesday's runoff primary.

McClellan is opposed by Rep. David Pryor.

I.S. McClinton, president of the organization, said in a letter to members that Pryor's voting record on civil rights issues was "no better than any other Southern lawmaker's."

[illegible] he knows whether his foe will be Pryor or McClellan, he said.

Muskie Rejects McGovern

By LAWRENCE L. KNUTSON
Associated Press Writer

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. Edmund S. Muskie of Maine announced Friday he is staying in the race for the Democratic presidential nomination, rather than withdrawing in favor of Sen. George S. McGovern of South Dakota.

Confounding a variety of predictions, Muskie said he would be doing McGovern a great disservice and would harm the reforms that have opened the Democratic convention to popular participation if he were to endorse the South Dakota Democrat.

"Party unity is not achieved with the magic wand of the kingmaker," Muskie said.

"No man can hand Sen. McGovern a united party," he told a luncheon meeting of the National Press Club.

"I hope Senator McGovern will use the time before the convention to draw on the wisdom and experience of those elements of the party not yet prepared to support his candidacy," Muskie said.

He said McGovern will go to the convention with between 1,200 and 1,300 delegate votes and said it is only realistic to assume "that his nomination is probable." The winner will need 1,509 votes.

But he said McGovern must broaden his base, must seek the support of party leaders of many points of view, and predicted that if he does "he will find the areas of agreement can be broadened and the differences narrowed."

"I will continue as a candidate," Muskie said emphatically.

Muskie said Thursday he was still a candidate. He and McGovern met then in what was described as a friendly and neighborly sounding-out session.

"There was no pressure from me to get him to withdraw or to release his delegates," McGovern said.

Asked if he expected an immediate endorsement from Muskie or the release of delegates pledged to the Maine senator, McGovern said "no."

There was something of a family-reunion air during a photo session where the two men were joined by McGovern's chief rival for the nomination Sen. Hubert H. Humphrey, D-Minn.

Bumpers Dedicates Park

WARREN, Ark. (AP) — Despite some difficulty with his airplane, Gov. Dale Bumpers dedicated the Moro Bay State Park on the Ouachita River south of Warren Thursday.

The park, which was built at a cost of about $350,000, was the 24th in the Arkansas parks system.

Bumpers told the audience of about 200 persons that "the most beautiful thing" was that the park was the first that had been planned and developed during his 17-month-old administration.

The governor's arrival at the site was 45 minutes behind schedule. He said that when the Highway Commission plane was being removed from a hangar at Little Rock, the front landing gear broke. The time needed for repairs forced his tardiness, he said.

Bumpers, alluding to news articles recently about his use of the plane, referred to the aircraft as "that famous plane."

While Bumpers was awaited at the park, Jimmy Driftwood, chairman of the Department of Parks and Tourism, entertained the crowd by singing folk songs.

Bumpers called tourism the state's No. 3 industry, amounting to about $350 million in expenditures in Arkansas in 1971. He said he expected the total tourist expenditure in the state would rise to $500 million by 1975.

The governor said his role in developing the park was "nothing more than allocating money that was yours."

"This park was built with your tax dollars, every bit of this park was paid for with state tax money," he said.

Wedding Vows Are Repeated

MR. AND MRS. MICHAEL JAMES DAVIS

Miss Marilyn Ann Mitchell, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Mitchell, was married to Michael James Davis, son of Mrs. Gertie F. Davis of Arkadelphia and James Willis Davis, at 3:30 p.m. in the afternoon of Saturday, June 3.

The double-ring ceremony was performed in the sanctuary of the Unity Missionary Baptist Church with the Rev. Gordon Renshaw officiating. Vows were exchanged before an arrangement of daisies and carnations with candelabra on either side.

Music was provided by Miss Camille Robertson of El Dorado, who sang "One Hand, One Heart" and "The Twelfth of Never," accompanied by Edward Cooper.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a floor-length A-line crepe dress. The bodice of white lace featured a scoop neck and butterfly sleeves. The empire waist was accented by a wide band of white peau de soie. The elbow-length illusion veil with appliques scattered over it fell from a half-Juliet cap that was covered with lace and beading. She carried a nosegay of white daisies and baby's breath.

Miss Martha Flowers of Hope was the maid of honor. She wore a floor-length jumper of yellow gingham which had tiny flowers strewn over it. The voile blouse had a jewel neckline and bishop sleeves. The empire waist was accented by a yellow grosgrain ribbon tied in the back. The same color ribbon encircled the yellow big brimmed hat that she wore, and she carried a basket of white and yellow daisies.

Mrs. Robert E. Mitchell, sister-in-law of the bride, served as bridesmaid. Her dress was green gingham with green ribbon and green big brimmed hat. She also carried a basket of white and yellow daisies.

James C. Pate of Pine Bluff served as best man, and Charles Ellis of Arkadelphia was the groomsman. Michael Hardin of Helena and Robert E. Mitchell, brother of the bride, ushered.

Mrs. Mitchell, mother of the bride, wore a peach knit dress with beige accessories. Mrs. Davis, mother of the groom, wore a turquoise linen cape dress with beige accessories. Each had a white glamellia corsage.

After the wedding, the parents of the bride were hosts for a reception in the Fellowship Hall of the church. The serving table was covered with a yellow cloth that had an overskirt of white net trimmed with white satin. The corners were accented with white satin bows.

Mrs Thomas Waters introduced the guests to the receiving line before they were served. The three-tiered wedding cake, topped with 3 satin bells, was served by Miss Jane Leavelle of Texarkana, and Miss Barbara Burchfield of Magnolia served the fruit punch. Miss Karen Waters distributed rice bags.

Assisting in the courtesies were Mrs. Marilynn Day, Mrs Gene Mann, Mrs. Charles Ray Jordan and Mrs. J.C. Howell Miss Gayle Davis, sister of the groom, was in charge of the guest book, and background music was furnished by Wendy McCorkle at the piano.

Davis-Mitchell rehearsal dinner

The Davis-Mitchell wedding party was feted with a dinner at Perry's by Mrs Gertie Davis mother of the groom, following the rehearsal on Friday, June 2.

Covers were laid for 20 at the T-shaped table. The serving cloths were adorned by centered garlands of English ivy and white candles. The bride's table was centered with a three branched candelabrum, and was adorned with a cluster of daisies, gardenias and stephanotis in love knots.

After the dinner the wedding couple presented gifts to the attendants and the hostess with each place

Coming, Going

Mr. and Mrs. Syd McMath will leave Saturday for Marblehead, Massachusetts to spend the summer.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert West, Laurel, Miss., will be the weekend guests of Mr. and Mrs. Birkett Wylie.

Misses Susan and Ruth Willett and Master Joey Willett are spending several days with relatives in Stephenville, Tex.

The Ronnie Nations family, Kingsport, Tenn., arrived Thursday to see Mr. and Mrs. Harry Shiver.

Mrs. Vance Crawford, Schenectady, N.Y., is visiting her sister, Miss Dell McClanahan.

Mrs. Rachael Edmiaston, Texarkana, has been visiting friends in Hope this week.

Mr. and Mrs James R. Campbell and children of Omaha, Nebraska spent their leave with her mother Mrs Oscar Dudney and Mr and Mrs John Couch of Hope. Upon departure from Hope, they will journey to Guam where the Campbell family will be stationed for two years.

Tea for bride-elect

The home of Mrs. Herbert Cox in Fulton was the scene of a tea honoring Miss Rebecca Susan Hodges of North Little Rock, bride-elect of Otis Wilson Blackwood of Fulton. Hostesses for the occasion were: Mrs. Herbert Cox, Mrs. Nancy Morrison, Mrs James T. Rowland and Mrs. Charles Wylie

Mrs. Cox greeted the guests and introduced them to the members of the receiving line made up of Mrs. Otis Blackwood, mother of the groom-elect, Miss Hodges and her mother, Mrs. Lewis D. Hodges of North Little Rock. The honoree wore a trousseau frock of brown figured cotton. She pinned a corsage of white daisies on her shoulder. Corsages of white carnations were presented to the mothers. The guests were registered by Miss Karen Rowland of Fulton.

The tea table was covered by a white cutwork cloth and centered by a silver epergne containing a large arrangement of white carnations and daisies. Frosted punch was served by Miss Eleanor Seymour of Texarkana and Mrs. Charles Tilmon, Jr., also of Texarkana. Coffee was poured by Mrs. Cecil Cox of Fulton. Silver trays of tiny tea sandwiches and petits fours, nuts and mints were also served.

An arrangement of white carnations and daisies was placed on the mantle in the living room. Gardenias and other summer flowers were seen around the home. Others dispensing hospitality were Miss Carol Anthony and Miss Susan McCain, both of Hope.

Approximately 100 guests called during the appointed hours.

Notice

First Baptist Church of Emmet will have a revival starting June 12 thru June 18th.

First Patriotic Song

What is considered America's first patriotic song probably is "The Liberty Song," which appeared in the Boston Gazette of July 18, 1768.

Helen Bottel — Helen Help Us!

Don't Believe All You Hear

DEAR HELEN:

I live on a California Army Base. The other day I heard that a famous "seer" predicted our base would be totally destroyed within three months. She was supposed to have told someone this on one of the talk shows, but I can't trace it down. I wrote and they never answered me.

Helen, I'm pertrified. Maybe it's foolish, but I can't help it. Have you heard anything like this and what are the chances of it coming true?—MARION

DEAR MARION:

I've heard this "story" about five different Army and Air Force Bases already, but I think it has as much basis in fact as the famous (now happily dead) rumor of several years ago that a certain brand of cigarettes made the smoker sterile.

Stop worrying because: 1. The "seer" probably predicted no more than a catastrophe at some sort of Armed Services installation—and that's giving herself pretty good odds, there being hundreds such in the United States. 2. Predicitons aren't that accurate. At least once every year a well-known individual or cult makes national headlines by setting the exact date for the world's end. We're still alive and kicking, right?—H.

DEAR HELEN:

We understand that your readers helped several organizations get kidney machines for hospitals through their contributions of Betty Crocker coupons. Now that these projects are terminated, could you tell us of other organizations that need these coupons? Our group has a big supply—WANTING TO HELP

DEAR WANTING:

Send your Betty Crocker coupons to

THE GIRL GUARDS AND SUNBEAMS,
809 Cedar Ave.,
Secaucus, New Jersey, 07094

These girls are collecting the General Mills coupons for a part for a heart machine at Christ Hospital, Jersey City. They need some 300,000 more to meet their deadline which comes in November, 1972.—H.

P.S. Any surplus coupons from readers will be greatly appreciated.

DEAR HELEN:

A belated, though heartfelt thanks, to your readers who made it happen! Their outpouring of Betty Crocker coupons from all over the world not only helped provide a kidney machine for Holy Name Hospital, Teaneck, N.J., but the surplus of nearly 800,000 went to five other organizations which were collecting for life-saving equipment.

We have been busy ever since sending thank-you notes, but many of your fans sent no names or addresses. I agree with you, Helen—you have the greatest readers in the world!—E.D.H., Saddle River Reformed Church, New Jersey.

DEAR HELEN:

People keep suggesting that childless couples adopt overseas babies, but how? Could you please give us some suggestions, approximate costs, etc.?—WAITING AND HOPING

DEAR W AND H:

The first step is for you to get in touch with an adoption agency or the Child Welfare Division of your State Department of Social Welfare. After thorough review of your plan, if both you and the agency agree to proceed with inter-country adoption, the social worker will advise WAIF-International Social Service (or perhaps a similar organization) who will attempt to find a suitable child for you.

There will be delays, possible disappointments, red tape—but adoptive parents are usually aware of these already.

The cost? Between $360 and $550 to the prospective parents (though WAIF's expenses for each adoption average over $1500). You will also be expected to pay transportation fees from the child's country, usually not more than $450.

For further information, write to International Social Service, WAIF, American Branch, Inc., 345 East 46th Street, New York, N.Y., 10017, and ask for the booklet: "WHEN YOU ADOPT A CHILD FROM ABROAD."—H.

THREE CHEERS FOR DAD!

Baptist To Show Film Documentary

LOST GENERATION, the latest release from World Wide Pictures, will be shown on Sunday, June 11, at the First Baptist Church, 3rd and Main Streets, Hope.

Filmed in Eastmancolor, LOST GENERATION utilizes multiple screen images and a probing documentary style to investigate attitudes on dissent, violence, the mood of America, and the answers that can be found by this generation as they face the decisions of life. According to the Reverend Gerald Trussell, pastor of the church, the opinions of both young and old, urban and rural, rich and poor, are brought to the screen as the camera focuses on people of various backgrounds throughout the Nation. Location shots were filmed in Alaska, the Southern states, on the farms and in the small towns of mid-America, and in the dying Haight-Ashbury hippie district of San Francisco.

The feature-length film, which includes special appearances by Billy Graham, Art Linkletter, Jack Webb, was described by one reviewer as a "moving film that calls on us to make a decision about how much we want to get involved in the troubles of our times. It is a relevant story that demands our immediate attention.

LOST GENERATION will be shown once at 7:00 p.m., with no admission charge. The public is cordially invited.

Named To All-Star Team

District 7 baseball runner-up Hope landed two players on the all-state baseball team released recently by the Arkansas Activities Association.

Bobcats named to the squad were Paul Young at second base and Bill Rowland at catcher.

The 13-man team was selected by coaches of the teams participating in the state tournament.

Hope made it to the state tourney by virtue of its second-place finish in the District 7 meet. Camden Fairview, which beat the Bobcats 4-3 in the district finals, failed to place a man on the all-state squad.

Hope won its first game in the state meet with a no-hit 5-0 decision over Bay, but was eliminated in its second contest by eventual champion Junction City.

Bill is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Jim Rowland of Fulton. He will attend the University of Arkansas.

Paul is the son of Mr. and Mrs. E. P. Young, Jr., of Hope. He will attend Centenary College.

Both boys hope to play college baseball.

Travelers Lose

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — San Antonio's Brewers, losers in the first four games of a five-game series, finally got to Arkansas and took a 5-3 decision Thursday night, snapping Bill Bright's 15-game hitting streak.

Bright, suffering a touch of the flu, sat out the first six innings. He came on in the seventh as a pinch-hitter with one run in and a man on second, but Gary Cavallo got him on strikes.

College World Series Opens

OMAHA, Neb. (AP) — Hard-hitting, top-ranked Arizona State and two-time defending champion Southern California loom as the favorites today as the 26th annual College World Series opens its seven-day run.

Arizona State (60-4) does not open play in the eight-team, double-elimination college classic until Saturday night, but poses the chief threat to USC, which is seeking an unprecedented third consecutive title.

Southern California, however, faces a tough early challenge. The Trojans open series play against second-ranked Mississippi (28-14).

Two-time champion Texas (38-7) meets Connecticut (19-5) in the other first-round game tonight at Rosenblatt Stadium.

Temple (34-13) plays Oklahoma (34-14) and Big Ten Conference champion Iowa (25-15) meets Arizona State in the final first-round games Saturday.

The Trojans and Arizona State have dominated the tournament the last five years.

NHL Grants Franchise To Two Cities

By HAL BOCK
Associated Press Sports Writer

MONTREAL (AP) — National Hockey League executives headed home today as the annual summer meetings drew to a close following the granting of two new expansion franchises to Kansas City, Kan. and Washington, D.C., and the drafting of the most promising graduating amateur players.

Shortly after the NHL Board of Governors decided, on the fourth ballot, to accept the bids from Kansas City and Washington for 1974 franchises, the 16 current clubs divided up the pick of the junior players.

As expected, the New York Islanders made right winger Billy Harris the No. 1 selection and the Atlanta Flames chose center Jacques Richard No. 2.

"I've been pretty excited ever since I learned I'd be the No. 1 choice," said Harris. "I haven't slept for a week."

Harris tied for the Ontario Hockey Association scoring championship with linemate Dave Gardner last season. Both players had 129 points. Richard left the Quebec junior league with 160 points including 71 goals.

Gardner and the third member of Harris' junior line, Steve Schutt, were both drafted by Montreal which had four first round selections as the result of previous trades made by crafty General Manager Sam Pollock. The Canadiens also selected goalie Michel Larocque and defenseman John Van Boxmeer, taking four of the first 14 players chosen while have-nots like California, Los Angeles and Pittsburgh went through the round without a single selection.

The NHL clubs face a bidding war to sign the promising amateurs. Also after the youngsters is the rival World Hockey Association and Harris sounded the signal to open the auction when he said, "It's a matter of money. If the WHA offers me $25,000 or $50,000 more than the NHL, I'll go there."

While the final price for Harris and Thursday's other top amateur choices remained a mystery, there was none over the money bound for the NHL from the successful Kansas City and Washington, D.C. franchise bidders. It's $6 million apiece for the new clubs—the standard franchise fee for the league.

Kansas City's franchise went to a group headed by 37-year-old real estate developer Edwin G. Thompson. Included in the investors is Jeff Jennings, son of New York Ranger President William Jennings.

Pirates and Dodgers Picked To Win Nat'l League Race

By HERSCHEL NISSENSON
Associated Press Sports Writer

The Pittsburgh Pirates and Los Angeles Dodgers, picked by most experts to win the National League division races, warmed up for their weekend confrontation in their respective time-honored fashions Thursday night.

The heavy-hitting Pirates crashed three home runs among their 15 hits and buried San Diego 11-2 while the speed-conscious Dodgers scored the winning run without a hit—Billy Grabarkewitz racing all the way home from second base on a wild pitch—to nip the Chicago Cubs 2-1.

Combined with Cincinnati's 5-3 triumph over New York, the Dodgers remained one-half game ahead of the Reds in the NL West while the world champion Pirates climbed to within 1½ games of the Mets in the East.

Elsewhere Atlanta nipped Montreal 3-2, Philadelphia tripped Houston 7-2 and St. Louis shaded San Francisco 6-4.

In the only American League games, Texas trimmed the New York Yankees 6-2 and Milwaukee took Kansas City 4-3.

Tommy John of the Dodgers and Juan Pizarro of the Cubs were locked in a 1-1 struggle—Jose Cardenal singled home Chicago's run in the fourth and Steve Garvey homered for Los Angeles in the seventh—when Manager Walter Alston made his move in the eighth and sent the little-used Grabarkewitz up to bat for John.

Grabarkewitz walked and Bobby Valentine sacrificed him to second. Pizarro then uncorked a wild pitch and catcher Randy Hundley was unable to pick the ball up when he slipped and fell at the box seat railing, allowing Grabarkewitz to score.

In the dressing room, the Dodgers' self-styled Kangaroo Court gave Grabby the Winged Foot Award for the baserunning error of the night—sliding into the plate head first although no throw was forthcoming.

The Pirates, on the other hand, are more used to trotting than running. Willie Stargell, Richie Hebner and Jackie Hernandez all produced their home run trots in a 15-hit attack that routed the Padres. In addition, Al Oliver drove in four runs with a pair of singles and Vic Davalillo lashed two runs, scoring doubles.

Cincinnati jumped on Mets' ace Tom Seaver for four runs in the first inning on singles by Pete Rose and Joe Morgan, Johnny Bench's sacrifice fly, a single by Tony Perez and Joe Hague's two-run homer. Perez homered off Danny Frisella in the eighth.

Larry Bowa drove in three runs and Tommy Hutton belted a two-run homer as the Phillies whipped the Astros and made it two victories in a row for the first time in more than a month. Billy Champion held Houston to one hit over the first six innings but needed help from Joe Hoerner in the seventh. Bob Watson of the Astros hit his 10th home run in the ninth inning.

Felix Millan drilled a tie-breaking double in the fifth inning and then scored what proved to be the winning run on Darrell Evans sacrifice fly as the Braves downed the Expos. Rico Carty homered for the first Atlanta run while reliever Jim Hardin picked up his first National League triumph.

San Francisco's Sam McDowell had a 4-1 lead over St. Louis in the eighth inning when the Cardinals exploded for five runs on Ted Simmons' bases-loaded triple and Donn Clendenon's two-run homer off reliever Don McMahon.

Dick Billings hit a two-run homer off Mel Stottlemyre in the first inning and singled to start another two-run flurry in the fourth as Texas drubbed the Yankees.

Milwaukee scored two runs on a throwing error by Kansas City second baseman Cookie Rojas and two more on RBI singles by pitcher Bill Parsons and Billy Conigliaro to bat the Royals, despite a ninth-inning home run by Amos Otis.

Pair Deadlocked In One Stroke Lead

By RALPH BERNSTEIN
Associated Press Sports Writer

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — A couple of guys who keep a doctor handy were deadlocked one stroke ahead of the field after one round of the $150,000 IVB Philadelphia Golf Classic.

Forty-year-old Gay Brewer, who gulps milk and antacid to calm a healing ulcer, and 29-year-old Jim Jamieson, who never knows when a shot may trigger a chronic back condition, each shot five under par 67s Thursday at Whitemarsh Valley Country Club Thursday.

Grouped at four under par 68s as the field of 144 started the second round of the 72-hole tournament over the 6,708-yard par 72 course were stout Bob Murphy, Hubie Green and Don Iverson. Don Hendrickson and Jerry Heard Heard were at three under par 69.

Brewer, who has been on the tour for 16 years, was stricken with a bleeding ulcer the day before the Masters at Augusta, Ga., last April. He almost fainted and said that if his wife hadn't been with him and summoned a doctor he might have died.

"My blood count was down to five," he recalled. "Fifteen is normal and four is fatal."

Despite the tournaments he missed this year, Brewer has won $20,085. His best finish was a tie for sixth in the Atlanta Classic two weeks ago. In Thursday' round he had six birdies, an eagle and three bogeys.

The chunky Jamieson, who describes himself as a cherubic or awesome, dropped from the tour for several weeks this year with muscle spasms of the lower back. He said the condition comes and goes, usually lasting two or three days. The last attack, however, kept him idle three weeks.

Jamieson, a former Illinois State champion and member of Oklahoma State's 1963 NCAA champions, scored an eagle with a 35-foot putt at the 485-yard par five 17th hole, and three birdies. He hit 14 greens in regulations and took only 29 putts as he played a bogey-free round.

Lee Trevino, who defends the U.S. Open title at Pebble Beach, Calif., shot 38-36—74, while Gary Player was one of three at 71. Defending champion Tom Weiskopf posted 36-39—75. Dave Hill, who beat Brewer here in a playoff in 1969, was in a group of six at two-under-par 70.

Speedy Crown Sold For Cool Million

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — "I think we made a good deal," said Allan Leavitt. "We're on our way."

Leavitt was kidding partner Frank Antonacci Thursday night in the winners circle after the pair were part of a 10-man syndicate that bought 1971 Hambletonian winner Speedy Crown.

The 4-year-old son of Speedy Scot had just trotted the mile in 1:58.

That was the lowest mark poted this season by any trotter in the country and equaled Nevele Pride's world mark on a ⅝ mile track.

Leavitt, master of Lana Lovell Farms at Hanover, Pa., headed a syndicate that purchased the winner of more than $220,000.

The syndicate bought speedy crown for $1 million from Crown Stables of Plainview, N.Y., and Howard Beissinger will continue to drive him for the remainder of the year.

Speedy Crown won Thursday by 17¾ lengths over Soda Hill and Painted Doll finished third in the $11,000 Challenge Stakes.

Pros Prepare For U.S. Open

PEBBLE BEACH, Calif. (AP) — Two of golf's biggest pros—Jack Nicklaus and Arnold Palmer—are taking a look at the course they will play on during next week's U.S. Open.

Nicklaus, who arrived here Wednesday, and Palmer, who has not played the Pebble Beach course in a year and a half, joined tourists and bank executives Thursday in playing practice rounds on the Pebble Beach Golf course above Carmel Bay.

"The rough? Well, it's rough," said Nicklaus. "It's not real long but it gets matted up. And balls can get caught in it. It will bother some people."

Key To The Mint Will Run, Bee Bee Bee Will Skip Race

By ED SCHUYLER JR.
Associated Press Sports Writer

NEW YORK (AP) — Key To The Mint will be backed by one of the great winning Belmont Stakes teams—trainer Elliott Burch, Jockey Braulio Baeza and owner Paul Mellon—when he goes after the final jewel of the Triple Crown Saturday.

Key To The Mint, Kentucky Derby winner Riva Ridge and Jersey Derby winner Smiling Jack were expected to oppose seven or eight other 3-year-olds but not Preakness winner Bee Bee Bee who is skipping the 1½-mile Belmont.

Entries for the $125,000-added classic were scheduled to close at 10:30 a.m., EDT, today and to be followed by the draw for post positions.

Post time for the 104th Belmont will be 5:35 p.m., with television coverage from 5 p.m.-6 p.m. and radio coverage from 5:25-5:45 p.m., both by CBS.

This will be Burch's fourth Belmont and he won his previous three, with Brookmeade Stable's Sword Dancer in 1959 and with Mellon's only other Belmont horses, Quadrangle in 1964 and Arts and Letters in 1969.

Baeza, a veteran of 10 Belmonts, won with Sherluck, who returned $132.10, biggest payoff in the history of the race, in 1961; Chateaugay in 1963, and Arts and Letters.

Key To The Mint also has lots of ability going for him. After being injured March 15, he returned to the races by winning the Derby Trial just four days before the Kentucky Derby. He then skipped the Derby, won a Preakness prep a week before the Preakness, finished third in the Preakness and won the Withers May 31.

Amarillo Rips Off 9-7 Win

NEW YORK (AP) — The American Basketball Association begins a two-day meeting next Monday, and among the items to be considered are the reductions of teams and even the possible dissolution of the league.

Sources within the league told The Associated Press on Thursday that Memphis, Pittsburgh and Florida are clubs that may be cut from the 11-team league in order to bolster the financial stability of the organization.

Florida and Pittsburgh appear the prime choices to be cut since the Floridians attracted only 87,000 home fans last year and the Condors drew only 89,000.

Memphis, which had an attendance of 130,000, has a good sports building, and despite its drawing difficulty, the sources said some powers in the league would like to save the franchise in that city.

Dissolving the league would make it possible for the National Basketball Association to pick up the strongest teams from the ABA. It would also allow the leagues to circumvent the restraining order barring a merger of the ABA and NBA. Hearings before a congressional committee on the merger have been chaired by Sen. Sam Ervin, D-N.C., who is against the merger.

An ABA source said the dissolving of the league might be tried but it was not likely because of the number of lawsuits it would bring from the players and their organizations, which originally obtained the federal injunctions barring the merger.

Donohue's Porsche In Can-Am Limelight

By BLOYS BRITT
AP Auto Racing Writer

MOSPORT PARK, Ont. (AP) — Selection of the 35 startes for Sunday's opener of the 1972 Can-Am raod racing series bagan today, with Mark Donohue's new Porsche in the limelight.

Donohue, the recent Indianapolis 500 winner, has been testing the new 12-cylinder, twin-turbocharged roadster in Germany and Canada for several weeks. He said he was pleased with the results.

"We clipped more than a second off the lap record here at Mosport," the 33-year-old Brown University engineering graduate said. "All we have to prove now is the car's durability. We know it has the speed."

Because all the Can-Am cars—open cockpit, fendered machines of unlimited horsepower—have been improve from last year, Mosport's qualifying marks were expected to last no longer than it took Donohue and McLaren drivers Pete Revson and Denis Hulme to warm up for the assault.

The starting field will be set from qualifying times today and Saturday. The first race in the $750,000 series drew 42 entries.

Revson, the smooth-driving New Yorker who won the series last year in a McLaren, replaces world driving titleholder Jackie Stewart for this race.

Stewart, who won two Can-Am events in a team Lola in 1971, joined McLaren for the current campaign but was stricken with a bleeding ulcer.

Hulme, who has helped McLaren win the Can-Am title five times, personally has accounted for 20 Can-Am triumphs and, despite Stewart's well known driving ability, still considers himself No. 1 on the McLaren team.

Stewart's old Lola, updated from last year, will be driven by Britisher David Hobbs. Also back for another try is Jackie Oliver, who showed progress in 1971 in developing the radical UOP Shadow, a low-slung Chevrolet-powered wind cutter built in California.

Little League Winners

In Little League play last night at K-Park Lions won over Greening-Ellis by a score of 12 to 6 in the first game, and the second game was won by Hope Auto beating Barrys 11 to 10.

Britt Henry was the pitcher for Lions. Greening-Ellis used Steve Jones and Duane Cobb on the mound. Leading all hitters for the winners was Taylor King collecting two singles. Arthur Brown was the leading hitter for the losers getting three hits. Britt Henry and Johnny Vickers both hit home runs.

In the second game of the evening Rufus Herndon and Tommy Allen were the pitchers for Hope Auto, and Paul Willis and Barry Hogan saw mound duty for Barrys.

Hitters for the winners were Jim Henley and Mike Metzger both getting three hits at four times up. Jim Henley not only hit his first home run but it was also a grand slam. The best hitters for the losers was Kenny Coleman getting two hits and Wayne East hit his fourth home run.

Friday night games will be CBC vs Sheriffs at 6:30 p.m. and Walker's Ref vs James Mtr. Co. in the second game of the night.

Angels Defeat Gurdon

The Hope Angels defeated Gurdon at Legion Field Wednesday night by the score 12 to 6, John Henley was the winning pitcher, for Gurdon the loser was Frank Bittle. The leading hitters for the Angels was Gene Hobson and John Henley each with a three run homer. J. Haney hit a two run homer for Gurdon. The Angels will play a double header at Magnolia 2 p.m. Sunday at Burdine Field.

LPGA Championship Off To Bad Start

By DAVE O'HARA
Associated Press Sports Writer

SUTTON, Mass. (AP) — Maybe it was the rain, maybe it was the course, maybe it was the tension caused by the appearance of plaintiff Janie Blalock.

Whatever it was, the net result was the same in the opening round of the $50,000 Eve LPGA championship Thursday at the Pleasant Valley Country Club.

Not a single player in the field of 82, largest in LPGA history, managed to equal par 73 on the 6,130-yard course, a rough start in the 72-hold tournament.

"I was amazed to come off the course with a 75 and find myself just one stroke behind," defending champion Kathy Whitworth said. "I can't recall the last time any of the girls failed to shoot at least par in a round. It certainly hasn't happened this year. I thought I'd be aboutfive strokes behind."

A one-over-par 74 was good for a share of the lead. And Miss Blalock had a piece of it with seven others—Japan's Sayoki Yamazaki, Pam Barnett, Betty Burfeindt, Barbara Romack Carole Jo Skala, Sandra Palmer and Sharon Miller.

Miss Whitworth, favored at one of her cousin courses, conceded that some players may have felt extra pressure because of the entry of Miss Blalock, the former New England champion from Portsmouth, N.H. and this year's leading money winner.

Miss Blalock filed a $5 million suit and obtained a temporary injunction in federal court last week after the LPGA suspended her for one year for alleged "unethical practices."

"I was so nervous I could barely see the ball on the first tee," Miss Blalock said after attracting most of the gallery of 3,605.

Miss Barnett, a seven-year pro from Charlotte, N.C., had a mental lapse when caught in the downpour on the 14th hole. She put her tee shot to within 20 feet of the pin, then picked up her ball without marking it. That caused a two-stroke penalty. Un-nerved and angry at herself, she then three putted for a triple bogey six.

U.S. on Verge of Spending Splurge

By JOHN CUNNIFF
AP Business Analyst

NEW YORK (AP) — The latest quarterly report of a widely distributed analysis of consumer buying plans, now in preparation, suggests that the nation is on the verge of a spending spree that could produce an economic boom.

But another well-known consumer forecaster, Sindlinger & Co., disputes the findings, claiming that the spree, if that is what it should be termed, already has passed, and goes on to challenge the report's methodology.

The report, to be distributed later this month, is produced for the Commercial Credit Company, based on interpretations of Census Bureau data and other materials by an editorial board of economists and educators.

F. Thomas Juster, vice president of the National Bureau of Economic Research, states that consumers have sharply reduced their hesitancy and caution.

While some elements of hesitancy still can be observed, he states, the demand for single-family housing appears to be at its strongest in years and should lead to further spending for furniture and appliances.

Evidence of the growing confidence, says Juster, is indicated by sharp rises not only in mortgage credit but in the rate of installment purchases. "People are going into hock," he said in an interview.

Sindlinger, however, claims that the spree is now over.

"What both the Census Bureau and the Survey Research Center are measuring is what already has taken place, not what is going to happen," he said.

Both surveys utilize extensive face-to-face interviews, the results of which are processed and published weeks later. Sindlinger interviews each week by telephone and reports his findings immediately.

As he sees it, there is only historic value in reporting what was on the minds of consumers at a given time. What is important, he claims, is to seek out their expectations for months ahead and then to make forecasts based on those expectations.

Sindlinger maintains that consumers forecast a rise in spending as early as last October when, according to his "Forecast Confidence Index," a sharp rise in consumer spending would begin in March and April.

Now he forecasts that the level of spending will remain rather firm until just before the elections, "when it will begin levelling off."

Still, it is rare for forecasters, who are always wary of long verbal limbs, to use words such as "spree" and "boom" regardless of how qualified.

Panda Likes To Show Off For Cameras

By MARGARET SCHERF
Associated Press Writer

WASHINGTON (AP) — One of the two most prominent Chinese natives currently on U.S. soil has shown strong public reluctance at being photographed with key congrersional leaders, but no one along Embassy Row even winced.

In fact, following something of a chase outside the dignitaries' residence, the Asians drew more laughter than surprise in rebuffing House leaders Hale Boggs and Gerald Ford.

Boggs and Ford will leave for a nine-day trip to China June 23. To prepare, they went Tuesday to the National Zoo for a special hour-long session outside the cages of Hsing-Hsing and Ling-Ling, pandas lately of China and now living gifts to the United States.

"We also expect to be briefed by Henry Kissinger and President Nixon before we leave," Ford told newsmen as he and Boggs prepared to pose for pictures with the animals.

As the session began, Hsing-Hsing seemed as eager as the congressmen to get his picture taken.

The male panda maneuvered his fat furry body through a narrow crack in the gate to his cage after a 10-minute struggle. He stood on his head and wriggled his bottom like a hula dancer.

"He's doing what Chouenla and President Nixon did—opening the door a little more," Boggs remarked.

But Ling-Hsing's enthusiasm waned. Boggs and Ford chased back and forth in front of his cage so photographers could frame the panda and the congressmen in a single shot.

Finally, he edged up to the glass separating him from spectators.

Boggs of Louisiana, the House Democratic leader, and Ford of Michigan, the Republican leader, follow Senate Democratic leader Mike Mansfield and Republican leader Hugh Scott in making a visit to Ctina in the wake of President Nixon's historic journey.

McDavitt Leaves Space Program

SPACE CENTER, Houston (AP) — Brig. Gen. James A. McDivitt, 42, who commanded the Gemini 4 and Apollo 9 space missions, announced today he is retiring from the Air Force and NASA effective Sept. 1.

McDivitt, who will be on terminal leave from July 1 to his retirement date, will become senior vice president of Consumer Power Co., which has headquarters in McDivitt's hometown of Jackson, Mich.

McDivitt announced prior to the Apollo 16 Space Mission that he would be leaving the space program but had not set a date. McDivitt said at the time he wanted to devote more time to his family.

McDivitt has been special assistant to the Center director for organizational affairs since May 1, 1972. He served as manager of the Apollo spacecraft program from September 1969 through April 1972, which encompassed Apollo missions 12 through 16.

A. H. Aymond, chairman of the board and president of Consumer Power Co., announced McDivitt's election to the executive position.

TV Violence Stirs Threat of Regulation

By CARL C. CRAFT
Associated Press Writer

WASHINGTON (AP) — Federal regulation of radio-television networks was proposed today by a congressman who says Americans are being fed "a steady diet of violence, brutality and sadism."

"The portrayal of violence is one of the easiest ways to attract an audience," said Rep. John M. Murphy, D-N.Y., "and most important of all, it sells soap.

"And as long as we in Congress give them the option of 'doing better' or making money, I am afraid they will choose the latter course."

Legislation he introduced would give the Federal Communications Commission regulatory power over prime-time programming by NBC, CBS and ABC.

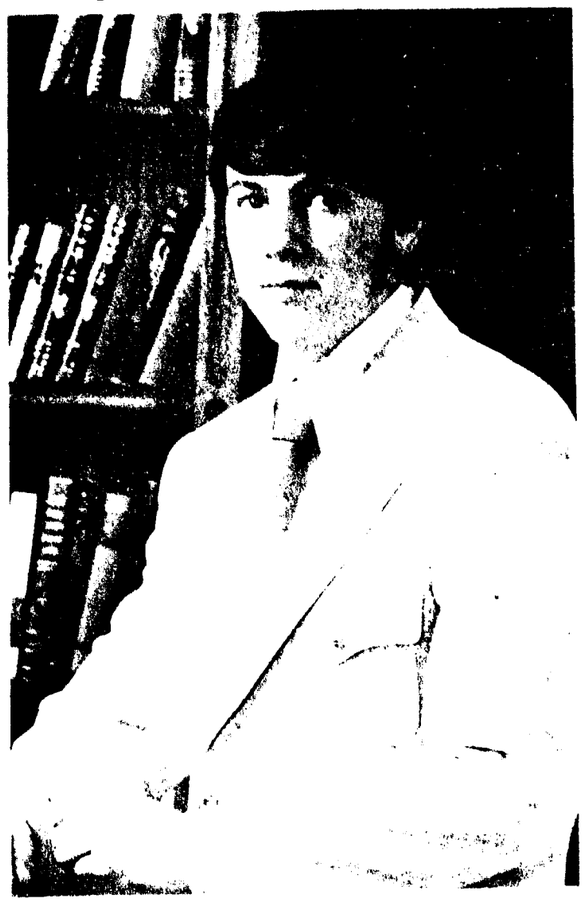

While saying he has no intention of stimulating government control of TV shows, Murphy said he wants to encourage competition and proliferation of network and non-network sources of programming.

Murphy, a member of the House Commerce Committee which watches over the boradcast industry, added in a statement that the networks alone have "the capability to produce quality television on a sustained basis. We need them.

"My bill would not take this function away from them—it would only make them produce programs more in the public interest."

While claiming to oppose censorship, he said, "I do feel that there is a mechanism by which we can reduce the level of network-TV violence by utilizing the concept of program balance as now applied to broadcast licensees by the FCC.

Boys State Governor

NORTH LITTLE ROCK (AP) — Mike Huckabee, 16, of Hope was elected governor of Boys State Wednesday night at the annual American Legion sponsored event at Camp Robinson.

Huckabee, who was nominated by the Nationalist party, defeated Dexter Reed, 17, of Little Rock, who was nominated by the Federalist party. The vote was 778-153.

The public is invited to join a welcoming committee headed by the student council of Hope High School and various clubs of the Hope area. A caravan will be formed in Emmet at 6:30 p.m. and will be lead by Mike upon his return to Hope.

Mike is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Dorsey Huckabee of Hope.

Monopoly Game Raises Funds

FLINT, Mich. (AP) — "Take a walk on the Boardwalk," and "Advance to Go," will take a little effort Saturday.

That's when the world's largest indoor Monopoly game will be played at a Flint shopping center, spokesmen for the Flint Evening Optimist Club and the Genesee Valley Merchants Assocation announced Wednesday.

All props will be practically the same as in regulation play, save a little larger, they added.

The board, for example, will measure 52 feet on a side, and two inflatable two-foot cubes will serve as dice.

Kleindienst Confirmed as Atty. Gen.

WASHINGTON (AP) — A "humbled and flattered" Richard G. Kleindienst has become the nation's top law-enforcement officer after a fourth controversy which could set the tone for the upcoming presidential campaign.

The 64-19 Senate vote Thursday approving Kleindienst, a 48-year-old Phoenix, Ariz., lawyer, as attorney general ended the longest confirmation fight for a presidential nominee in memory.

Throughout the 24 days of hearings on the nomination of Kleindienst to succeed John N. Mitchell, liberal Democrats centered their attack on the administration's ties with big business, a theme they are likely to repeat during the fall's presidential campaign.

Specifically, they attempted to discredit Kleindienst's denial that he played a role in settlement of three antitrust suits against International Telephone & Telegraph Corp., the nation's ninth-largest business.

Settlement of the antitrust suits was linked by columnist Jack Anderson with ITT's commitment of up to $400,000 to San Diego to help the city obtain this summer's Republican National Convention, later moved to Miami Beach.

Despite grumblings that he was too conservative and had helped formulate hard-nosed Justice Department policies for dealing with demonstrators and dissenters, Kleindienst won the Senate Judiciary Committee's unanimous approval the first time around.

Then, on the day his nomination was to be taken up by the full Senate, Anderson published an interview with ITT lobbyist Dita Beard and a memo purportedly written by her which connected the antitrust suit settlement with the ITT commitment to San Diego.

Kleindienst immediately asked that the hearings be reopened in an effort to remove the cloud over his head. The committee agreed.

Amish Won't Give Up Traditional Felt Hat

By O'RYAN RICKARD
Associated Press Writer

AUBURN, Ind. (AP) — Amish construction workers in this area of northeastern Indiana began losing their jobs this spring because they would not wear hard hats.

They said the traditional broad-brimmed black felt hat worn by men of the Old Order Amish sect is an integral part of their religion.

About 400 men were furloughed due to a regulation in the 1970 federal Occupational Safety and Health Act, which became effective Jan. 1.

The law requires workers in all types of construction to wear protective hard hats. Many of the Amish in this area are employed in construction, usually carpentry.

In May, spokesmen for the Amish asked Auburn attorney John Martin Smith to secure an exemption for them.

Smith reported Thursday the U.S. Department of Labor has issued hhe exemption, allowing Amish men to work in construction jobs without wearing hard hats.

"The exemption is for the Old Order only and was issued to allow them religious freedom," Smith said.

He added that the men "were beginning to get back their jobs already. They are good workers and many employers would rather have their carpentry work than that of others."

The act requires employers to furlough workers who do not comply with the regulation, so contractors began laying off the Amish. "They did this very unwillingly," Smith said.

He added that the exemption will not affect workmen's compensation or insurance benefits. "They will not accept any of these benefits; it's against their religion. They believe in taking care of their own, Smith said."

Small Town Help Favored in Congress

By CARL C. CRAFT
Associated Press Writer

WASHINGTON (AP) — After years of mourning the death and decay of small towns, Congress appears ready to reject a revenue-sharing remedy as part of its plan for keeping rural survivors alive and healthy.

Senate-House conferees agreed Thursday on a compromise bill intended to settle intense bickering over the best way to develop rural America so farmers will stay away from already-crowded big cities.

President Nixon proposed a new, $1.3-billion rural credit system linked with revenue sharing under a plan for countryside development and business loans.

In February, the House discarded a revenue-sharing approach and passed a mixture of $580 million in grant authority and vast new loan powers.

But the Senate, in April, fashioned its own multimillion-dollar program including a formula for revenue sharing containing an intricate arrangement for pumping $500 million a year into rural revitalization.

Conferees, settling on a compromise which would authorize about $500 million a year in grant funds and extensively expand loan authority for intensive rural-development activities, deleted the Senate's revenue-sharing approach in an effort to get a bill that could clear Congress this year.

Senate Agriculture Committee Chairman Herman E. Talmadge, D-Ga., said, "I believe the conferees' agreements embody the most significant rural-development legislation ever to come out of the Congress."

The conferees accepted a wide range of programs to improve rural living conditions and to upgrade small towns and make them more attractive. The legislation covers rural communities of up to 10,000 persons, with industrial loans availble for cities of up to 50,000.

Television and Radio

By CYNTHIA LOWRY
AP Television-Radio Writer

NEW YORK (AP) — What's really new on the television docket? The hour-long soap opera, that's what. And it is not to be dismissed lightly.

At least one network is interested in "Yesterday's Child ... Tomorrow's Adult," dreamed up by a veteran drama writer, Winifred Wolfe, and a producer, Mary Harris. Both have guided a couple of the traditional half-hour sagas through several seasons of marital bustups, prolonged hospital stays, murder trials and tangled emotional relationships.

The half-hour soap, the traditional TV form, is a logical development from radio's 15-minute shows. But even when nighttime TV was loaded with 60-minute shows the idea of a 60-minute daytime serial never surfaced until now.

Miss Harris, partner in the production company, is ready to roll with five hour-long shows weekly, convinced there is an audience for such a venture. She has been the producer of "Another World," and, more recently, of "As The World Turns," two of the long-running serials.

"These shows start with the word," she said. "They start with basic story principles. I remember once I called Agnes Nixon, one of our best serial writers, and told her somebody had outlined the plots of the world's hundred greatest novels.

"She was very cool. What good is Mme. Bovary to me?" she asked. Flaubert could write beginnings, middles and ends, but has he ever written middles?

Miss Harris believes that Charles Dickens would have a field day on television. What would he make of Oliver Twist when [illegible] ever really solve the mystery of Edwin Drood? Dickens could have told us if he had been writing for television.

While she appreciates that the serials keep a lot of women interested while they are doing the ironing, Miss Harris often thinks about a letter from a nurse who was caring for 13 terminal cancer patients. "As The World Turns" was in the middle of a courtroom sequence and the nurse wrote that "all of my ladies" knew they would be gone by the time the TV trial came to a climax. Could they possibly know how things would turn out?

"What could I do?" she asked. "You never divulge a story line in advance, but I wrote back and told her that Tom Hughes would come to no permanent harm."

Soviet May Send Envoy to Israel

JERUSALEM (AP) — The Soviet Union is preparing diplomatic moves toward resuming relations with Israel, the newspaper Yediot Aharanot said today.

The journal's London correspondent quoted an unnamed Soviet source as saying Russian diplomats were working in Arab capitals to prepare the ground for the move. There was no comment on the report from the Israeli Foreign Ministry.

Moscow broke relations with Israel over the 1967 Middle East war.

The source was quoted as saying that Moscow "still disputes Israel's policy in the conflict with the Arabs, but with no direct contact, the Soviet government cannot influence feelings in Jerusalem."

"The Soviet Union wants to prevent war in the Middle East, but this is difficult when operating on only one side."

Pratt Heads Environment Agency

WASHINGTON (AP) Dr George L. B. Pratt, formerly president of Arkansas Tech College at Russellville, Ark., was named Wednesday as director for education and manpower training for the Environmental Protection Agency.

Pratt quit Tech during a fight over curriculum reorganization.

William D. Ruckelshaus, EPA administrator, said the position to which Pratt is being named is a new one.

DR. LAWRENCE E. LAMB

Cat Scratch Fever Is Quite Rare

By Lawrence Lamb, M.D.

Dear Dr. Lamb—Could you please explain what cat scratch fever is and its after affects if any? I have children who play with cats a lot and I would like to know how dangerous it is. They are often scratched by them.

Dear Reader—Cat scratch fever can be caused by any puncture or scratch on the skin. It doesn't have to be from the claws or teeth of the cat. It just happens that the cat is the most frequent source of these minor skin injuries in children.

If it is caused by a cat it is not because the cat is sick, it is just because the germ that is responsible for the illness is on the cat's claws or teeth.

The truth is authorities haven't agreed yet on the exact cause of cat scratch fever, that is, whether it is a bacteria or virus or some other germ. Most investigators think it is a virus.

If the skin is broken the agent penetrates the body's defenses and sets up a local infection. This may be very minor, causing a few reddened bumps at the site where the scratch occurred. Sometimes there may be little blisters or a scab. Usually the site of the scratch heals without even forming a scar.

The infectious process really hits the lymph nodes and as with other infections it attacks those lymph nodes directly in line with the lymph drainage from the injury. On the hand, the arm pit lymph nodes will be affected. If it is on the feet or on the ankles, it will affect those in the groin. The lymph nodes swell and become tender and sometimes the skin over them is reddened. Along with this the persons may have fever and a generalized, nonspecific illness. The lymph nodes soften and gradually return to normal.

Sometimes, the softened lymph node becomes an abscess and may drain. Usually even though the lymph node may contain pus it is not drained because it will then take longer to heal. Rarely encephalitis may follow such an infection but that is true of most virus infections too. Fortunately, the type of encephalitis that has rarely been observed following cat scratch fever apparently doesn't leave any residual brain damage.

There really isn't any good treatment. Antibiotics don't affect viruses and they don't cure cat scratch fever. About the only thing the doctor can do is to provide symptomatic treatment to make the patient comfortable.

I would like to add that considering the large number of cats in families and the number of cat scratches it is rather remarkable how rare this problem really is.

Opening lead—♥ J

By Oswald & James Jacoby

Anyone can smile when all finesses work. When they all lose, even strong men weep, but sometimes really strong bridge players manage to come out smiling.

North has a very sound raise to two spades and there is nothing wrong with South's jump to game. As a matter of fact, there are those who might make some sort of mild slam try with the South hand.

East wins the heart lead and returns a club. South makes his correct play, the 10, and West takes his jack.

West leads his singleton trump. South picks up the trumps and now has a chance to win the crying championship of the year. All he has to do is lead a second club and finesse the queen. West takes his king and returns the suit.

Eventually South loses the diamond finesse and complains bitterly that while a lucky player would make a slam, he is so unlucky that he can't even make game.

A good player sitting South plays just the least bit differently. He takes the diamond finesse first. It loses, but now the good player cashes his ace of diamonds; enters dummy with a trump; leads the jack of diamonds and watches the 10 fall from the East hand. This establishes dummy's nine and since the deuce of clubs has been discarded on the jack, the queen of clubs goes on the nine.

There is no need to try that second club finesse and South makes his contract.

WORLD ALMANAC FACTS

John F. Kennedy was the youngest man elected president of the United States and was 43 years and 236 days old when inaugurated. The World Almanac notes, however, that Theodore Roosevelt became the youngest American president (42 years and 322 days) when as vice-president he succeeded William McKinley after the assassination in 1901.

Path To Peace May Open Between Jews and Arabs

By GEORGE W. CORNELL
AP Religion Writer

NEW YORK (AP) — More than at any time in a quarter-century, conditions now exist in the Middle East that open "the path to peace" between Jews and Arabs, a broad-gauged but incisive church study has concluded.

It comes at a time of heightened bitterness over the terrorist massacre at Tel Aviv's airport. But the study, remarkably, has drawn extensive support from those of divergent views on the over-all problem.

Most such studies in the past have faced sharp criticism from one side or the other. But the new one has been applauded, with some qualifications, by specialists of varying sympathies, both on Arab affairs and Judaism.

It says that peoples and governments in the Middle East "are now in a position to move toward reconciliation in a way that has not been possible" since 1947 on the eve of Israel's establishment as a nation.

Oddly, the study says, the changes in climate on both sides have "occurred quite unexpectedly in many ways" since the June 1967 war, which Arabs called a "setback" and in which Israel annexed border areas.

Although the Arab states have rearmed and occasionally resumed hostilities, the study adds, "they have undergone a marked adjustment of attitude not always apparent in public pronouncements ...

"It's chief characteristic is the de facto acceptance of Israel."

For Israel, an unforeseen result of the 1967 annexations has been to open a "window on the Arab world," sharpening Israel's awareness that its destiny is linked with Arab progress, the study says, adding:

"Increasing numbers of Israeli Jews and Palestinian Arabs on both sides of the 1967 cease-fire line recognize that violence has failed as a substitute for negotiation and mutual recognition."

The 21,000-word document was drawn up by a 10-member United Presbyterian commission, headed by the Rev. Dr. Elwyn Smith of Temple University, and accepted by the denomination's recent assembly for churchwide study.

24-Hour Air Strike Threat by Pilots

LONDON (AP) — The International Federation of Airline Pilots Associations threatened Thursday night to ground most of the world's airlines for 24 hours June 19 unless the United Nations takes effective action against aerial hijacking.

The strike threat came a few hours after 10 Czechs hijacked a Czechoslovak airliner to West Germany, killing the pilot in the struggle to take over the plane. A West German prosecutor said he will try to put the Czechs on trial.

The U.S. Air Line Pilots Association has asked all union workers to join it in a boycott of the airlines of all nations that give refuge to skyjackers.

The international federation said it supported proposals to set up a special commission to recommend measures against nations that harbor or fail to prosecute hijackers, and warned: "If the United Nations fail to take effective action, the Ifalpa will institute a worldwide stoppage of air services on June 19, 1972."

The statement added that "associations representing over half the pilot members of IFALPA have already agreed to this course of action." The federation includes 64 associations with a total membership of 50,000 pilots.

The group said it was threatening a strike "in view of the failure and ineffectiveness of measures so far taken by the United Nations, the International Civil Aviation Organization, governments and other bodies and of the continued exposure of passengers, crew and aircraft to intolerable hazards." It called on the U.N. Security Council to discuss the situation no later than June 16.

The federation said it also expects the Algerian government to extradite or adequately punish the two Americans who hijacked a Western Airlines jet to Algiers last weekend after the pair extorted $500,000 in ransom for the passengers.

The U.S. State Department said Thursday that the Algiers government had informed U.S. representatives it would return the money.

Daley Charged With Violating Reform Rules

By F. RICHARD CICCONE
Associated Press Writer

CHICAGO (AP) — A hearing on a challenge to the seating of Mayor Richard J. Daley and other Chicago Democrats at the national party convention ended with the charge that Daley's group violated reform rules more flagrantly than any other in the nation.

A group of 10 independent Democrats, some of them supporters of Sen. George McGovern, filed the challenge with the national party's Credentials Committee on the grounds that the Chicago organization secretly slated, endorsed and supported delegate candidates.

Wayne Whalen, a lawyer for the challengers, said Thursday night—in summarizing three days of hearings—"The evidence shows gross and deliberate disregard by the Chicago Democrats of the rules" of the Democratic party.

He also said the Chicago situation was "the most flagrant violation in the country."

Davis said one witness quoted Daley as telling party leaders, "They cannot tell us how to run our elections." Another witness said she was told by a party worker that "women don't belong in politics."

The challengers contend that the delegate slates in the eight congressional districts being challenged do not conform with rules on representation of blacks, women and young persons.

They also contend that the 59 uncommitted delegates being challenged were part of a slate of 62 uncommitted delegate candidates who are party officials, friends, relatives or what Whalen characterized as "insiders." There were 37 of the city's 50 ward committeemen on the slates.

The delegates contended that the challenge was precipitated by political motives and that the 10 challengers are a faction "which has constantly contested for party leadership."

The regulars, many of them aides and intimates of Daley, also said the quotas imposed by the party reforms violated state election laws and disenfranchised voters who did not choose blacks, women or young persons.

Cecil F. Poole, a San Francisco lawyer appointed hearing officer, was expected to report his findings within a few weeks to the full, 150-member Credentials Committee.

Dying Man Says Life Is Worth It

SAN DIEGO, Calif. (AP) — "There are so many things wrong with me," says Paul Isleman. "I don't know if it is worth it to stay alive this much longer."

He doesn't always feel that way but he won't live much longer anyway, doctors say. Isleman lives one day at a time, having been told by physicians not to plan more than a day ahead because there is no guarantee he'll still be alive.

A diabetic for 20 years, Isleman now suffers severe arthritis and a skin disorder, has a poor heart and kidney and has problems with his blood pressure and nerves.

In the past two years he has been divorced, buried his mother, lost his job because of failing health and given his two children up to foster parents. Yet despite these tragedies he says:

"Life is worth it."

Paul Isleman is 27.

"I've given life to someone else, raising two kids," he said. "I've traveled a lot, done a lot of things. Life isn't really how long you live just as long as you do something with it."

He lives with his sister, sleeping most of the day. Weekends he takes his camper van and drives to the desert, where he collects rocks and relaxes...and thinks.

"It seems I'd be upset about dying," Isleman said. "I always thought I wanted to live a long life-at least until 40 or 45. But it just doesn't bother me. I think there's something beyond. It seems like there's gotta be."

Bombers Pound Haiphong

By GEORGE ESPER
Associated Press Writer

SAIGON (AP) — American fighter-bombers gave the Hanoi-Haiphong military complex on Thursday its hardest pounding since the resumption of full-scale bombing more than two months ago, U.S. military spokesmen announced today.

Pilots said they hit barracks, storage depots and vehicle maintenance facilities four and five miles west of Hanoi, left a fuel depot in flames a mile northwest of Haiphong, wrecked war materials at the Cat Bi airfield on the southeastern edge of the port city and dropped two railroad bridges within 25 miles of the Chinese border.

More than 200 strikes were flown over the North Thursday, considerably fewer than the total of more than 300 the day before. But spokesmen said more targets were hit in the Hanoi-Haiphong area than on any previous day.

While the fighter-bombers were hitting the northern end of the country Thursday, B52s were pounding the southern panhandle for the first time in nearly two months.

The targets today were supply depots scattered from inside the demilitarized zone to 31 miles north of the DMZ. One senior officer said he could find no evidence that American bombing has deprived the North Vietnamese of supplies in South Vietnam's northern provinces. But he said it is "only a matter of time."

Intangible Things Make Life Worth Living

By HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK (AP) — Things that make life worth living:

The look of wondering what to do next on the face of a small child after he takes the first two steps of his life without falling down.

The feeling of bedtime drowsiness after a day filled with outdoor activity.

Having someone to console you in a time of grief, and realizing that this someone makes it worthwhile to stay alive.

Walking at night from a stranded car to get a can of gas—and finding a station still open with its lights blazing just 100 feet over the next hill.

You hate to go to the 25th reunion of your high school class because you're fat, and you feel that when you meet your former sweetheart there you'll look ridiculous. So you diet off 30 pounds and when you finally do meet your old flame you discover she has three chins and outweighs you by 15 pounds.

Admiring the soaring flight patterns a hawk makes against the blue sky on a windy day.

Running for shelter with a pretty girl just as the raindrops begin to patter on the picnic.

Being told by your friends that you actually look a lot handsomer and younger than the picture the local paper printed of you after your election as neighborhood chairman of a charity drive.

Coming upon a really tasty new soft drink that pleases you after you've been on the wagon for three whole months and see nothing but a palate-palling future ahead.

Deciding that pride alone won't permit you to die now because you haven't achieved enough yet to make a respectable brag on your tombstone.

Getting in a lump sum a pay raise retroactive to two years before.

The surprise and respect in your 16-year-old son's face when you show him that his decrepit old man can still kick a football five yards farther than he can.

Thrilling your wife so much with an unexpected gift that she sobs on your shoulder with happiness.

The relief on opening what you fear is going to be a new can of worms—and finding it empty.

For these and other benefits of breath, dear Lord, our thanks. Amen.

Kissinger on Mission to Japan

By PETER T. SUM
Associated Press Writer

TOKYO (AP) — Henry A. Kissinger was flying to Japan today for his twice-postponed visit to strengthen the Nixon administration's relations with America's most important Asian ally.

President Nixon's adviser on national security was due in Tokyo tonight for an unofficial weekend visit as the guest of the nongovernmental Japan-U.S. Economic Council. But his schedule was crowded with meetings with officials, from Prime Minister Eisaku Sato down.

Japanese newspapers said the chief topics of the talks would be Japan's role in international affairs following Nixon's visits to Peking and Moscow, and U.S. policies toward Communist China and the Nationalist Chinese regime on Taiwan.

The Nixon administration hoped that Kissinger's powers of persuasion would repair some of the damage done to Japanese-American relations by Washington's failure to consult Sato in advance of the switch in its China policy last summer and by its restrictions to curtail Japanese exports to the United States.

The Asahi Shimbun, Japan's biggest newspaper, said sources in the Foreign Ministry told it Kissinger was coming to Japan "to demonstrate not by words but by deeds the importance the Nixon administration attaches to Japan in its foreign policy."

Anti-Busing Education Bill Passes

By JOHN BECKLER
Associated Press Writer

WASHINGTON (AP) — Congress has sent a $21.3-billion education bill to President Nixon and a message to the courts that it wants a halt in busing for school desegregation.

The big education bill with its antibusing rider was passed by the House Thursday, 218 to 180. It had passed the Senate on a 63-15 vote.

The bill combines funding authorization for a wide variety of educational programs with a provision that would prevent federal court desegregation orders from taking effect for 18 months unless all appeals have been exhausted.

By the end of the 18 months, supporters of the provision hope, the Supreme Court will have fixed limits for busing for the purpose of school desegregation.

The White House has said Nixon is dissatisfied with the busing provision—he is said to want a stronger moratorium—but sponsors of the bill expect him to sign it.

Civil-rights liberals contended the busing provision signals a retreat from the nation's commitment to racial equality.

The educational provisions were all but overlooked in the strident debate over busing.

The main bill would:

—Launch a new program of direct federal aid to colleges and universities that could provide them with as much as $1 billion a year.

—Entitle every college student to a grant of $1,400 a year, minus what his parents could afford to contribute toward his education.

—Authorize $1 billion a year to help elementary and secondary schools desegregate.

—Establish a national institute of education to foster research into all aspects of the learning process.

The money figures in the bill only set the ceilings for the program. The actual funds would have to be appropriated in separate legislation and could be considerably lower.

The busing-education package, which had to be accepted or rejected in its entirety, proved to be a prickly one for most members, and the vote split both parties almost down the middle. A total of 130 Democrats and 88 Republicans voted for the bill, and 108 Democrats and 76 Republicans voted against it.

U.S. Court Throws Out Busing Plan

ATLANTA, Ga. (AP) — A massive busing plan proposed for city schools by a civil rights group has been rejected by U.S. District Court.

It was the second time in a year that a major busing plan aimed at achieving greater racial balance for the city's schools has been turned down.

Elizabeth Rindskopf, an attorney for the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People, said Thursday's ruling "will be appealed if an appeal is appropriate. We do intend to take the case further."

"It is the 'reasonableness' of the plan and whether it is constitutionally required or desirable that troubles the court," said the written decision of Judges Sidney O. Smith Jr. and Albert J. Henderson Jr. They said that since 1967 de facto segregation, outside the control of the school board, has prevailed in Atlanta.

Busing as a "solution would simply speed up the transition of Atlanta to an all-black school system" by promoting white recourse to suburban and private schools, they added.

TO THE CITIZENS OF HEMPSTEAD COUNTY:

I want to thank you for the good vote and support you gave me in the first primary. I am again asking all voters for their vote and support on June 13.

I know you — the people of my home county – and know that you are interested in a better Hempstead County, a better future for yourselves, for your children and grandchildren.

I know that everyone of you, as I am, is concerned about a better county road system. This possibility is uppermost in the minds of every individual in our county. We are today receiving more money for road maintenance, improvement and construction of new roads than was ever received in Hempstead County. You will agree with me that we have the same roads that we have had for years — still dirt and gravel.

If you good people see fit to elect me your County Judge, I renew my promise that I will use all the knowledge I possess to initiate a hard surface road program in our country, using federal aid that is alloted to our County. THIS CAN AND WILL BE DONE. Hempstead County has been behind for several years in using federal aid fund allotments.

At the same time, I will not forsake the maintenance of any county road to achieve a hard surface road program but with the proper management and wise spending of YOUR TAX DOLLARS, we can carry on as we are now carrying on and hard surface at least 20 miles of roads in the county each year.

The doors will always be open to the County Judge's office for all citizens interested in a better county to counsel and advise with me on any problem that you may have that will make Hempstead County a better place to live.

I will always strive to bring dignity, honor and respect to the office of County Judge. Vote to make Hempstead County GROW!

Any way you want to compare 'em...

Plymouth Duster's a lot more car and priced like a Vega!

Believe us, we wouldn't compare Duster to those smaller cars, except for the fact that the money difference isn't all that great. Sure. Duster still gives you the things you want in a small car—low price, easy upkeep, good gas economy. But Duster lets you avoid the common discomforts of a very small car. It's just big enough, just small enough to be just right. So is the price.
